

Argosy University
San Francisco Bay Area

Doctorate in Counseling Psychology

ADVANCED INDIVIDUAL COUNSELING

C7432

3 credits

SECTION A

Course Syllabus & Outline

Spring 2010

In Class: Sat and Sun. January 23-24

In Class: Sat. and Sun. Feb. 20-21

Course duration: 1/11/10 - 4/3/10

Professor: Virginia Bennett, Ph. D.

Phone: Argosy U: 510-217-4741

Private office: 510-644-1246

Email: vbennett@argosy.edu

Office hours: Mon-Wed-Thurs. 1- 4:00 pm and by appointment

Syllabus is subject to change.

Argosy Communication:

If you choose to use an email address other than the assigned Argosy email, please be advised that you do so at your own risk. Any difficulty receiving Argosy emails will be your responsibility.

Course description

This course is designed to give students an opportunity for in-depth exploration of the theories and techniques for adult, individual counseling. There will be a special emphasis on different modalities of psychodynamic psychotherapy, dialectical behavioral therapy, and cognitive-behavioral approaches. The course will also address dealing with trauma and how to work with specific personality disorders and character styles. The course will provide a forum for analysis and discussion of cases and specific areas of interest to the students in the class.

Course Objectives

- 1) Understand the theoretical bases for major approaches to advanced individual therapy.
- 2) Become knowledgeable about psychodynamic concepts of projective identification, transference, countertransference, and how to take an integrative approach to characterological reconstruction.
- 3) Understand the basic concepts of dialectical behavioral therapy and the treatment of borderline personality disorders and other diagnoses.

- 4) Comprehend cognitive behavioral techniques utilized in therapeutic approaches.
- 5) Identify the kinds of clients and issues that respond to specific interventions and therapeutic approaches.
- 6) Become more informed and skilled at doing written and oral presentations of theories and cases.

Course Format

The course will involve readings, videotapes, case studies, discussions, and other activities to help students to experientially understand advanced individual counseling. Students will be asked to contribute to class discussions, demonstrating critical thinking and clinical observations based on reading assignments as well as personal and professional experience, as well as doing in class presentations. This is a blended course format, so there will be online modules presented weekly, requiring student participation.

Final Date to Drop the Class:

To receive a “W” grade a student must officially drop this class by the date listed below that corresponds to this course’s term and length. Students may not withdraw from this course after this date. If a student chooses to discontinue course work after the final drop date, the student may receive an “F” grade for the course.

Spring Session I (7.5 week courses): February 14, 2010
Spring Session II (7.5 week courses): April 7, 2010
Spring Full Term (15 week courses): March 20, 2010

Required Reading:

Johnson, S. (1994). Character styles. New York: W.W. Norton & Company.
ISBN 0-393-70171-9

Marra, R. (2005). Dialectical Behavior Therapy in private practice. Oakland, CA: New Harbinger Publications. Paperback ISBN 1-57224-420-8

Diagnostic and statistical manual of mental disorders: DSM-IV-TR. Washington, D.C.: American Psychiatric Association.

Students should refer to: American Psychological Association (2009). Publication manual of the American Psychological Association (6th ed.). Washington, D.C.

For additional Writing Resources, see the page at the end of the syllabus.

Highly Recommended:

Beck, A. T. (2004). Cognitive therapy of personality disorders, 2nd Ed.

Linehan, M. (1993). Cognitive behavioral treatment of borderline personality disorder. New York: The Guilford Press. ISBN 0-89862-183-6

Recommended Reading:

Fairbairn, W. (1994). Psychoanalytic studies of the personality.

Guntrip, H. (1969). Schizoid phenomena, object relations and the self. International Universities Press.

Kohut, H. (2000). The analysis of the self: A systematic approach to the psychoanalytic treatment of narcissistic personality disorders. International Universities Press.

Masterson, J., & Klein, R. (1989). Psychotherapy of the disorders of the self. London: Brunner-Routledge

Ogden, T. (1989). The primitive edge of experience. New Jersey: Jason Aronson Publishers

Edward, J., Ruskin, N., Turrini, P. (1981). Separation-individuation: Theory and practice. New York: Gardner Press.

Winnicott, D.W. (1986) Home is where we start from: Essays by a psychoanalyst. Norton, W.W. & Company, Inc.

Evaluation

Students will receive a letter grade in this course. It will be based on the following criteria:

Class Attendance

Because this is an accelerated class compressed into two weekends, students must attend all classes in their entirety. Any lapse in attendance should be discussed with the instructor as soon as possible, and can jeopardize a student being able to pass the class.

In- Class participation is based on students showing evidence of having read the assigned material before class, asking appropriate questions, and participating fully in class discussions. Students are encouraged to share case material and discuss their own experiences as it relates to the course. Students are expected to arrive for class and to return to the class after breaks on time. All cell phones and pagers should be turned off. Students are expected to use computers for notetaking purposes only.

Online Participation: It is important for students to participate online by posting at least twice weekly and meeting the assignments for that week's module. Online Participation runs from Monday 5:00 pm (when the new module is released) to Sunday Midnight EXCEPT for weeks immediately prior to on-campus classes where the deadline is earlier (see schedule, below). Late postings are not read or reviewed by instructor. Students should contact the instructor as soon as possible if for some reason they will be unable to post for the week. Points will be deducted for "not showing up for class" online. Missing three weeks or more can constitute failing the class.

Short Paper Assignment

Email me an electronic version directly. DO NOT use the "drop box" on the class website. Put your name, and the assignment and class directly on the file: nameshortAdIn.doc

Electronic version is due by noon Friday, Jan. 22

Write a one to two page paper which describes what dialectical behavioral therapy is. Think in terms of how would you explain this form of therapy to someone who knew nothing about it? What are the distinguishing aspects of it? What is the difference between DBT and CBT? I understand that this will be your preliminary comprehension of DBT, based on the reading you have done (unless you have had prior exposure to it), and that your understanding will increase after our weekend of class, but put together the best explanation that you can.

In this paper, be sure to include the following:

Using correct APA style:

- 1) Cite a book (the required text for this class is acceptable)
- 2) Cite a journal article (look at the "library reference" section in the Course Home online, if you need some guidance to finding a relevant article)
- 3) Cite a website source (look DBT up on the internet and share with us something you find out)
- 4) Include a secondary citation

- 5) A) Provide a direct quote, using quotation marks (39 words or less)
B) PARAPHRASE THIS QUOTATION
- 6) A) Provide a different direct quote, as a block quotation (more than 39 words)
B) PARAPHRASE THIS QUOTATION
- 7) Include a Reference list, correct APA style.
- 8) Check out Writing Resources in the Course Home Section online.

The purpose of this assignment is to share your findings, which can lead to a better discussion in class of what DBT is, how it differs from cognitive behavioral therapy and psychodynamic therapy, although it has elements of both. This short paper will also help you enhance your APA writing style, which will improve the grades you'll receive on your final research paper in this class (and other classes).

Research Paper

Students may choose ONE of the following and are strongly encouraged to choose a theoretical orientation with which they are not familiar.

The purpose of this assignment is to challenge students to take their understanding of a theory to a new level, in terms of how it can be applied to doing adult individual therapy.

Required number of references DOES NOT include class textbooks.

STUDENTS NEED PRIOR APPROVAL FROM THE INSTRUCTOR FOR THEIR PAPER TOPIC.

This assignment will be discussed more in class.

A) A research paper focusing on one theoretical approach to adult individual counseling. It is recommended that students select a topic that is represented in the video/DVD collection at the Argosy University library of real or simulated counseling session. [A Student can buy or rent a video/DVD from another source but must make it available to the instructor when submitting the final paper.] Students will need to review the literature and write out a description of the chosen theoretical approach and describe how it has been applied in the video/DVD. Students will need to utilize at least four journal articles or books as references. Actual journal articles that have been accessed online can be used as part of these four journal reference requirements. Abstracts, website or other online information may be used in addition to but not instead of the four journal articles or books. Do NOT use wikipedia as a source. Students need prior approval by the instructor for their topics. Papers should be at least 8-10 pages in APA format, citing references correctly (this number does NOT include cover page and reference pages).

NOTE: If a student chooses CBT as the theoretical orientation for the paper, then it should focus on its use for a personality disorder, unless other arrangements are made with the instructor.

OR:

B) A research paper focusing on one theoretical approach to counseling and show how it applied, or how it could have applied, to an actual counseling or therapy client with whom that student worked. The paper needs to include examples of specific interventions utilized and applications of theoretical concepts, and a page of simulated dialogue. Students will need to utilize at least four journal articles or books as references. Actual journal articles that have been accessed online can be used as part of these four journal reference requirements. Abstracts, website or other online information may be used in addition to but not instead of the four journal articles or books. Do NOT use wikipedia as a source. Students need prior approval by the instructor for their topics. Papers should be 8-10 pages in APA format, citing references correctly (this number does NOT include cover page and reference pages).

OR:

C) A combination of a personal exploration and research paper. Students can focus on self-analysis that integrates material from at least four journal articles or books and a specific therapeutic approach they would take with their own issues. Actual journal articles that have been accessed online can be used as part of these four journal reference requirements. Abstracts, website or other online information may be used in addition to but not instead of the four journal articles or books. Do NOT use wikipedia as a source. Students need prior approval by the instructor for their topics. Papers should be 8-10 pages in APA format, citing references correctly (this number does NOT include cover page and reference pages).

Papers should be either double spaced or 1 ½ spaced, flush left, using a 5 spaced indentation for paragraphs. An abstract of the paper is NOT required. Use APA style for citation of all references. Refer to the 6th edition of the APA Publication Manual for guidance (see recommended texts listed above). Proper spelling and grammar is important.

Research Papers are due Monday, March 1, noon. Late papers receive a drop of half a grade for each day that they are late, unless other arrangements are made with the instructor, prior to the deadline. Papers should be submitted online directly to www.turnitin.com AND to vbennett@argosy.edu. If you do not receive an email within a day confirming that I have received your paper, contact me via email or call me at 510-217-4741.

Instructions for www.turnitin.com : Go to the website, follow the instructions to create your user profile. The name of the class is given as Advanced Individual. The password is: advanced The ID is 3032768 NOTE: you need to use the ID # and password, not the name of the class, to submit your paper. If you have any problems submitting it to turnitin, send me an email, in addition to the electronic version of your paper.

Oral Presentation: Students will do a 15 minute, well prepared, presentation in class of the topics for their research papers. They are encouraged to provide a description of a therapeutic intervention and should show an excerpt of a video/DVD demonstrating the approach. Role playing may be used as a substitute for the video/DVD.

Oral presentations will be due the second week-end of class, Feb. 20-12

There is no final exam for this class.

Students must complete all assignments in order to receive a passing grade in this course.

Percentage Criteria:

- 30% Research Paper
- 25% Oral Presentation
- 5% Short Paper
- 20% In-Class Participation
- 20% Online Class Participation

Grading Criteria

Criteria for grades for each requirement are as follows. Deduction in points are made for late papers equivalent to half a grade drop per day they are late, unless previous arrangements are made with the instructor. Deductions are also made if papers are not APA style. Deductions will be taken for absences from classes and may result in a student having to retake the class.

Final Paper

A+=99+

Paper shows original thought, provides excellent coverage of the material, is well written, and is in appropriate APA format, including required number of references.

A = 92 -98

Paper is in appropriate APA format, well thought out, and provides excellent coverage of material, and includes required number of references.

A- = 90-91

Paper is well thought out, uses the required number of references, is organized, provides excellent coverage of material but has missed a minor aspect of APA format or is not as well written in a way that slightly interferes with comprehension of minor points of the paper. For example, paper lacks a good summary and ends abruptly.

B = 80 - 89 Paper is well thought out, but is missing one component of APA format OR coverage of material is only adequate. Range from B+ to B- depends on the degree to which writing style promotes—or interferes with—the reader's comprehension; the degree to which APA format has been missed; and/or the degree to which the coverage of the material is adequate. To obtain a "B" at any level, still requires citing and incorporating the required number of references.

C = 70 - 79

Insufficient number of references provided and/or limited coverage and/or disorganized, difficult to understand paper.

NOTE: There are no "D's" at AU graduate school

F = <70

Paper is disorganized AND coverage is not adequate AND does not conform to APA format

Evidence of plagiarism OR paper not submitted

Oral In- Class Presentation

A+=99+

Presentation clearly presents chosen theory, shows original thought, and provides excellent coverage of the material. Presenter is able to respond well to questions and discussion of topic and keeps to designated time frame.

A = 92 -98

Presentation provides excellent coverage of theory within designated time frame.

A- = 90-91

Presentation provides thorough coverage of material but may have missed a minor aspect, or does not quite keep within time frame.

B = 80 - 89

Presentation is well thought out, but is missing a relevant component of the theory, does not keep to time frame, has some difficulty with questions or discussion of theory.

C = 70 - 79

Presentation is not well organize, or does not clearly describe theory. Student cannot address questions for discussion, does not keep to time frame. NOTE: There are no "D's" at AU graduate school

F = <70

Presentation is disorganized, student lacks key understanding of theory, does not keep to time frame, is not able to address questions for discussion

Criteria for Class Participation (including online participation)

Grade

A = 90+

Student actively participated in discussions in all discussion; nearly all comments were thought provoking and incorporated material from the assigned readings.

B = 80 - 89

Student actively participated in all discussions; most of the comments were thought provoking and incorporated material from the assigned readings

C = 70 - 79

Student participated in discussions in more than 70% of class sessions; comments/questions demonstrate a surface level understanding of course topics

NOTE: There are no "D's" at AU graduate school

F = <70

Student participated in less than 70% of class sessions; comments/questions did not demonstrate an understanding of course topics

Student did not participate in class discussions

Writing Requirements: Graduate school requires a large amount of writing and is geared towards helping students develop and polish academic writing skills in preparation for their dissertations and later professional projects. It is recognized that some undergraduate schools may not have insisted that their students achieve the writing competence necessary for graduate school. If a student is unsure of his/her writing skills, it is recommended that he or she turn in a final paper at least two weeks before the due date to get the instructor's guidance and feedback. If problems are corrected and the final draft of the paper is turned in before the final date, the result is usually a higher grade than the student would otherwise receive.

APA Manual: Read and the study the APA Manual. Pay particular attention to the sections that deal with constructing references, headings, how to write and phrase ideas, making tables, etc. This manual is the guide to the creation of all documents at Argosy University, and although the university may modify some of the rules (see Guide to the Dissertation Process) to fit local needs or wishes, you must become very familiar with its usage. Remember the APA manual is also a guide that addresses style issues, and goes beyond structure and format.

The following outlines specifications for the papers: One inch margins around, a cover sheet in APA form and style, and a page of references. Page numbers should start on the first page of text NOT the cover page. The page numbers should appear on the top right margin without regard to the 1-inch margin rule. Be sure to adhere to the paper length requirement and due dates stated in each learning activity.

Professional Ethics: Students are expected to conduct themselves in a professional manner. At all times, students are expected to adhere to the ethical guidelines established by the American Psychological Association. Please reference the academic honesty and plagiarism statement referenced in the syllabus addendum.

Honor Code: By accepting admission to Argosy University, each student makes a commitment to understand, support, and abide by the University Honor Code without compromise or exception. Violation of academic integrity will not be tolerated. Refer to your Student Handbook for details.

This means that each student is expected to do his or her own work and to utilize and cite references appropriately for papers without plagiarism. If you are referring to information from another source, you must describe it in your own words AND cite the source, unless you are using direct quotes that are indicated as such, and are correctly cited. It is not ethical for a student to submit a research paper that was submitted in a different class. Students are advised that all research papers will be submitted to TurnItIn.com to scan for plagiarism. The consequences for plagiarism are an "F" for the class and an evaluation will be made to determine if dismissal from the program is indicated. Please contact the instructor for any questions regarding this.

Library

All resources in Argosy University's online collection are available through the Internet. The campus librarian will provide students with links, user IDs, and passwords.

Library Resources: Argosy University's core online collection features nearly 21,000 full-text journals and 23,000 electronic books and other content covering all academic subject areas including Business & Economics, Career & General Education, Computers, Engineering & Applied Science, Humanities, Science, Medicine & Allied Health, and Social & Behavior Sciences. Many titles are directly accessible through the Online Public Access Catalog at <http://library.argosy.edu>. Detailed descriptions of online resources are located at <http://library.argosy.edu/misc/onlinedblist.html>.

In addition to online resources, Argosy University's onsite collections contain a wealth of subject-specific research materials searchable in the Online Public Access Catalog. Catalog searching is easily limited to individual campus collections. Alternatively, students can search combined collections of all Argosy University Libraries. Students are encouraged to seek research and reference assistance from campus librarians.

Information Literacy: Argosy University's Information Literacy Tutorial was developed to teach students fundamental and transferable research skills. The tutorial consists of five modules where students learn to select sources appropriate for academic-level research, search periodical indexes and search engines, and evaluate and cite information. In the tutorial, students study concepts and practice them through interactions. At the conclusion of each module, they can test their comprehension and receive immediate feedback. Each module takes less than 20 minutes to complete. Please view the tutorial at <http://library.argosy.edu/infolit/>

Academic Dishonesty/Plagiarism

In an effort to foster a spirit of honesty and integrity during the learning process, Argosy University requires that the submission of all course assignments represent the original work produced by that student.

All sources must be documented through normal scholarly references/citations and all work must be submitted using the Publication Manual of the American Psychological Association, 6th Edition (2009). Washington DC: American Psychological Association (APA) format. Please refer to Appendix A in the Publication Manual of the American Psychological Association, 6th Edition for thesis and paper format. Students are encouraged to purchase this manual (required in some courses) and become familiar with its content as well as consult the Argosy University catalog for further information regarding academic dishonesty and plagiarism.

Additionally, Argosy University considers resubmission of a work produced for one course in a subsequent course or the submission of work done partially or entirely by another to be academic dishonesty. It is the student's responsibility to seek clarification from the instructor regarding how much help may be received in completing an assignment, exam or project and what sources may be used.

Scholarly writing: The faculty at Argosy University is dedicated to providing a learning environment that supports scholarly and ethical writing free from academic dishonesty and plagiarism. This includes the proper and appropriate referencing of all sources. You may be asked to submit your course assignments through "Turnitin," (www.turnitin.com), an online resource established to help educators develop writing/research skills and detect potential cases of academic dishonesty. Turnitin compares submitted papers to billions of pages of content and provides a comparison report to your instructor. This comparison detects papers that share common information and duplicative language.

Americans with Disabilities Act Policy

It is the policy of Argosy University to make reasonable accommodations for qualified students with disabilities, in accordance with the Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA). If a student with disabilities needs accommodations, the student must notify the Director of Student Services. Procedures for documenting student disability and the development of reasonable accommodations will be provided to the student upon request.

Students will be notified by the Director of Student Services when each request for accommodation is approved or denied in writing via a designated form. To receive accommodation in class, it is the student's responsibility to present the form (at his or her discretion) to the instructor. In an effort to protect student privacy, the Department of Student Services will not discuss the accommodation needs of any student with instructors. Faculty may not make accommodations for individuals who have not been approved in this manner.

The Argosy University Statement Regarding Diversity

Argosy University prepares students to serve populations with diverse social, ethnic, economic, and educational experiences. Both the academic and training curricula are designed to provide an environment in which students can develop the skills and attitudes essential to working with people from a wide range of backgrounds.

Class Schedule

Order of topics is subject to change.

Online Modules:

*There will be weekly online modules and class participation. The Modules run from Monday 5:00 pm through midnight Sundays. Weeks of on-campus weekends have a posting due date on Fridays—see syllabus for times. In any module, posting deadlines may vary. Check in on Monday evening or Tuesday mornings to know the assignments and deadlines for that week's modules. *Students must post within the designated deadlines. Some of the topics will be determined by student interests and what arises during the weekend classes. Late postings will not be read or counted by instructor.

Online Module I: Jan. 11-17: Introduction to the course, instructor and student introductions.

Begin reading Marra, R. (2005). Dialectical Behavior Therapy in private practice.

Read entire book by the first weekend of class: Jan. 23-24

Online Module 2: Jan. 18 - 22: (Note that the final time for posting will be Friday 6:00 pm, since we will be in class on the weekend.)

Introduction to DBT

Short Paper Assignment due: Friday, noon, Jan. 22.

Read: Marra, R. (2005). Dialectical Behavior Therapy in private practice. Read entire book by the first weekend of class

FIRST WEEKEND

Jan. 22-24

Read all of Marra, R. (2005). Dialectical Behavior Therapy in private practice

Saturday, Jan. 23

9:00 -6:15 p.m.

Overview of Dialectical Behavioral Treatment (DBT) of Borderline Personality and other Disorders

Sunday, Jan. 24

9:00 a.m. - 6:15 p.m.

DBT Continued.

Cognitive Behavioral Therapy and DBT: specific techniques.

Online Module 3: Jan. 25 - 31

Application of CBT and DBT

Online Module 4: Feb. 1 – Feb. 7

Overview of Johnson's characterological-developmental model.

Reading assignment: "Theory of Character Formation" in Johnson's Character Style, pp. 3 - 61

Online Module 5: Feb. 8 - 14

"Guess that Character Style" and other topics

Reading assignment: For next two weeks, read the rest of Johnson's book

Online Module 6: Feb. 15 – Feb. 21 (Note that the final time for posting will be Friday 6:00 pm, since we will be in class on the weekend.)

Psychodynamic principles

Reading assignment: (Part II in Johnson: all of the chapters on character styles)

SECOND WEEKEND

Feb. 20-21

Readings due before this class:

Johnson, S. (1994). Character Styles. Read entire book.

Saturday, Feb. 20

9:00 -6:15 p.m.

Johnson's characterological-developmental model for adult individual counseling. Theory of Character Formation and Character Styles: Schizoid, Oral, Narcissistic.

Integrated review of psychodynamic theories.

Utilizing transference, countertransference, projective identification.

Student presentations

Sunday, Feb. 21

9:00 a.m. - 6:15 p.m.

Johnson's characterological-developmental model, continued.

Masterson's approach to the treatment of narcissistic disorder.

Student presentations

Summary and review. Student feedback

Online Module 7: Feb. 22-28

Topic to be determined

Online Module 7 ½: March 1 - 3

Course Wrap-Up

Final Research Papers Due: Monday, March 1, noon