Assignment #1 – Reading & Online Discussions (30% of grade).

DUE: Each Sunday online by midnight California time.

Each week you are to read the selection required as posted in the schedule, and post at least one response on the discussion board to the lecture and discussion questions provided online by the Instructor. Your participation in the Online Discussions will be graded as part of your Class Participation.

Participation and responses in online assignments as well as class participation will be worth 30% of the total for the class and will be based on the following:

Did you arrive to class on time? Did you engage in active listening and verbal participation in the class discussions? Did you participate online in a professional and self-aware manner? Were you, at all times, professional and appropriate with your peers? Were you attentive to whomever was speaking? Did you apply readings to the in-class discussions?

Assignment #2: Cultural “Show and Tell” (10% of grade). DUE on first day of class, 9/18/2010

Bring an object associated with one of the cultures with which you identify. Explain what are the customs & norms associated with this object. What are the cultural values behind the customs? What kinds of emotional and cognitive processes on the individual level are associated with these customs and the use of this object? Some examples of objects include: musical instruments; traditional foods and beverages; picture of a family tractor for rural culture; ethnic clothing; hand-made toy representing student’s family ethnic heritage, etc.

Assignment #3: Analytic and Reflection paper: (25% of grade) DUE via email by midnight on Sunday, 9/26/2010.

The purpose of this assignment is to make you think deeply about the cultural background and settings that have shaped you into the person you are today. On one hand, this means thinking about the significant cultural settings—including explicit cultural identities like ethnicity, gender, and sexual orientation, as well as more implicit communities of meaning or common-ground understandings that arise from engagement with shared realities—that you have engaged over the course of your life. On the other hand, this means being specific about how these settings have shaped you. Specifically, your task in this assignment is to describe some of the cultural patterns - ideas and their embodiment in institutions, practices, and artifacts—that permeate your worlds and provide the foundation for your psychological experience. Rather than list cultural settings, try to identify the particular institutions, practices, and artifacts from those settings that have had the most influence on who you are. Also try to be specific (i.e., give examples) about the ways in which you think these settings have shaped you. Make sure to use relevant concepts and terminology used in class. Paper should be at least 5-7 pages in length.

Assignment #4 – Research Paper: (35% of grade) DUE via email by Monday, 10/25/2010 by midnight.

Please write an 8 – 10 page research paper (not including references) on a diverse population and counseling this population. You should use at least two journal articles, and may also draw from course readings and discussions. APA format is required throughout, including section headings, citations, and references. Emphasis will be placed on demonstrated synthesis of understanding, clarity of thought and writing, organization and logical flow of ideas, insightful application of course material, readings and references to specific people, groups and situations, thoughtful applications to the counseling process, and level of effort. More information will be provided during the first weekend of class.

Additional Criteria for Papers:

A = 90+	Paper is in appropriate APA format, well thought out and provides excellent coverage of material
B = 80 – 89	Paper is well thought out, but is missing one component of APA format OR coverage of material is adequate

All sources must be documented through normal scholarly references/citations and all work must be submitted using the Publication Manual of the American Psychological Association, 5th Edition (2001). Washington DC: American Psychological Association (APA) format. Please refer to Appendix A in the Publication Manual of the American Psychological Association, 5th Edition for thesis and paper format. Scholarly writing: The faculty at Argosy University is dedicated to providing a learning environment that supports scholarly and ethical writing, free from academic dishonesty and plagiarism. This includes the proper and appropriate referencing of all sources. You may be asked to submit your course assignments through "Turnitin," (www.turnitin.com), an online resource established to help educators develop writing/research skills and detect potential cases of academic dishonesty. Turnitin compares submitted papers to billions of pages of content and provides a comparison report to your instructor.
